

Handout 2 – Video Notes

While watching Professor Rozelle’s lecture on China’s economic development, respond to the questions below. Then fill out the chart about China’s past, present and future.

1. What evidence does Rozelle use to support his assertion that China has “the worst human capital of the middle income world?”
2. What would China need to do in order to be eligible to join the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD)?
3. Why will OECD’s rate of human capital educational attainment fall if China joins the organization?
4. What are some potential ways to improve China’s human capital through education, according to Rozelle?

	Past	Present	Future
Levels of secondary educational attainment in China
Location of manufacturing jobs that don’t require a high school diploma

Students who enter high school (high school attainment) in China
--	--	--	--